

Ski touring to the Brennkogel

An amazing summit high above the Großglockner Hochalpenstraße

The ski tour to the Brennkogel is a really great tour in spring. The tour requires, that the Großglockner Hochalpenstraße has opened in spring. Otherwise the ascent from Fusch via the Hochalpenstraße is very long an the tour is not worth the effort.

-
-

The way to the Brennkogel

I'm sure you've already seen the Brennkogel. The mountain rests directly over the Fuschertörl at the Großglockner Hochalpenstraße and it offers great views and options for skiing. The ascent offers different routes as well - the easiest one starts at the parking lot in the "Elendsgrube" right next to the Mittertörl-tunnel. In wide turns you will reach the Brennkogelscharte at 2.637 meters. After the ridge the track levels off and you can see the summit. The last few meters towards the summit are steep. For the downhill you will follow the same way.

The Brennkogel also offers a few other skiing options and there's a great combination with the tour to the Kloben. After you've climbed the Kloben you follow the downhill south and find your way to the summit of the Brennkogel as mentioned before. For the downhill follow your way from the Brennkogel or climb back up to the Kloben - as you like it.

-

Fact Box

Best time for touring: Spring, after opening of the Großglockner Hochalpenstraße	Vertical uphill: approx. 780 hm	Vertical downhill: approx. 780 hm	Duration approx. 2 h 30 min
Technical uphill: fairly easy, steep in the summit section	Endurance and shape: mid-difficult-tour with some really beautiful vertical meters	Exposed spots: No, summit section is steep	Technical downhill: After the steep summit, nice, flat ski hills
Exposition uphill: South to south-west	GPS Position: Longitude: 12.8219567 Latitude: 47.1009091	Parking, drinking, eating: Parking at the parking spot in the Elendsgrube, food at the Edelweißspitze	Exposition downhill: South to south-west

Do not forget

_ Here you find the avalange report Salzburg ...

- Warm first and second layers
- Hard shells for bad weather
- Dukes, gloves and ski helmet
- Sunglasses and goggles
- Sun screen for the skin
- In Spring - maybe crampons
- Safety equipment Peacon, shovel and avalange pole
- Enough food and drinks
- Weather forecast and avalange report
- Maps and touring information
- Mobile phone and camera

Lampenhäusl TIPP

The ski tour to the Brennkogel is a great trip to the wild and stunning nature of the alpine regions around the Großglockner. If you want to combine the Brennkogel with a following descent via the Kloben to the Käfer-Valley and Ferleiten, we organize a shuttle for you. For real specialists there is a descent towards the famous Franz-Josef-Höhe at the Großglockner. For information please come to the Hotel Lampenhäusl and ask Sepp. You had a long day in the mountains? The Lampenhäusl relax-area and the restaurant are waiting for you and your sore muscles.

Packages & offers

-

Winterstart with the SKI ALPIN CARD

December 2020 from € 579,--

-

Spring ski weeks with the SKI ALPIN CARD

Spring 2021 from € 599,--

-

Ski-bonus week with the SKI ALPIN CARD

Winter 2010 - 2021 from € 625,--

Call us today +43.6546.215

We look forward to take care of your concerns

Book online nowGet in touch with us